

Brief profile

The feco group creates spacial solutions that connect and inspire people.

feco Systeme GmbH

feco Systeme GmbH develops spac-defining partition wall systems for high design and building physics requirements. The company sells the system components to licence partners worldwide. Fitters and large interior fit-out companies manufacture the system walls according to their respective country-specific requirements. As a licensor, feco offers these partners access to a sophisticated partition wall system. This includes stud, glass frame and connection profiles as well as test certificates for statics, sound insulation and fire protection. This means that numerous solid and glass wall constructions are available for use in the buildings of well-known customers. The variety of designs ranges from solid walls with veneer or melamine surfaces to glass walls with single or double glazing.
